

Teaching Points®

You have the bookroom. Do your teachers know how to:

- Evaluate a book to determine its supports and challenges for a reader?
- Know how the formula for each text level indicates new learning opportunities for readers?
- Inventory expected strengths for each text level?

Teachers of the Teaching Points® project can answer “yes” to all of these questions.

Reading Objectives For Each Text Level

Teaching Points® is built around the leveling system of Fountas and Pinnell. For each gradient of text difficulty, teachers are given a list of Reader Characteristics for students entering that text level and a Menu of Instructional Objectives. The instructional objectives are aligned with that text level's characteristics, capitalizing upon the level's common set of supports and challenges. Once an instructional objective is selected, teachers are connected to Lesson Suggestion, Suggested Prompts, and accompanying Instructional Posters. Teaching Point Bookmarks are the starting point for Parent Communication and Progress Monitoring systems.

Lesson planning has never been easier!

All Reading Skills and Strategies

Each Teaching Points® Menu includes teaching objectives for the following skills and strategies:

- Phonemic Awareness
- Phonics
- Fluency
- Mangle and use text structure and print conventions
- Develop and express meaning
- Set purpose
- Generate questions
- Monitor and clarify meaning
- Make inferences
- Develop sensory images
- Synthesize
- Solve and build words
- Writing and discussion as related to reading

Student Goal-Setting Folder System

Student bookmarks are an easy way for students to track their strengths and growth areas in reading. With the Student Goal Setting Folder System, parents and students can easily become an integral part of reading progress!
